May Bank Holidays

Bank holiday weekends present a golden opportunity for caterers to capitalize on increased demand for their services. There will be two bank holidays in May and many individuals will be looking to make the most of these extra days off. This can create a surge in demand for delicious food and seamless service.

With the weather improving this also allows for outdoor events, and caterers have the chance to showcase their expertise in providing al fresco dining experiences which can further expanding their customer base and boost revenue.

Father's Day

Sunday June 18th

Boost your revenue on Father's Day

The hospitality industry suggests that Father's Day doesn't typically draw as many advance bookings as holidays like Valentine's Day and Mother's Day. To address this, we have some strategies for driving more advance bookings and maximizing revenue on Father's Day this year. We've compiled some top tips, offering insights into creating compelling offers and generating excitement leading up to the day.

Tailoring promotions to different age demographics

For younger dads, consider offering promotions like free gifts or drinks, fostering a casual and relaxed family atmosphere. Alternatively, entice older dads with promotions such as custom upgrades or set price experience menus, creating a sophisticated and refined dining experience. Venues can leverage unique features like outdoor seating areas for a Father's Day BBQ or picnic-style meal or offer specials on beers and cocktails for those who enjoy a drink with their meal.

- Facilitate a smooth Father's Day weekend, assess venue space to accommodate increased demand
- Plan staff schedules and send booking reminders to confirm reservations
- Plan food and drink orders in advance, considering special Father's Day menu items
- Enhance the ambiance with themed decorations, music, or lighting

By addressing these considerations, your venue can be well-prepared for a successful Father's Day promotion.

Celebrate with a menu featuring classic comfort foods that many dads love
